

Martin and Sylvia are impatient for snow in the story "The Snow that Sticks," so they make their own snow out of paper. You may need a little help from a grown-up at first, but soon you'll know just how to fold and cut.